The following letter and lines were received by Mesers.

A. Vogeler & Co., Baltimore, Md., who have sent them to us for publication for the benefit of all concerned. Wheever "W. C." may be, he has, in our opinion, great cause for rejoicing over his restoration to health; and if his gladness finds expression through the suggestions of the Muse, so much the better, The letter goes on to say: "Enclosed will be found some original verses, written by myself, which might be used as an advertisement for your valuable medicine. They were verses, written by mysen, which ment be used as at advertisement for your valuable medicine. They wer written as a parody on 'King Bruce and the Spider. I have been a sufferer from rheumatism for three years but am now a well man. Your medicine, St. Jaco'. Oil, 'takes the cake.' W. C., Washington, D.C."

"The Deacon and the Fly." Old Deacon Brown had sathim down, In gloom to meditate, With solemn "phiz," on rheumatiz, And his unhappy fate. He'd tried enough of worthless stuff-

It did no good; and so He'd set his face toward the place Where all good descons go. A little fly. just passing by, Attacked the deacon's ear;

And though he "shoo'd," 'twas not subdued But still did persevere. The deacon blest the little pest, And slapped with all his might; But all in vain, it came again,

To carry on the fight.

Soon he arose and blew his nose; Then joyfully did cry:
"In vain I've fought; but I've been taught A lesson by this fly. "No more I'll snuffle, nor will I 'shuffle

He used the Oil; with little toil He rubbed his side and arm. The silment dread most quickly fled: The Descon runs his farm.

Off this mortal coil;'
But like the fly, again I'll try.—

I'll use St. Jacobs Oil."

1879.....25,947,642 1880......25,740,138 It states that, in the opinion of the committee, the maximum gravity of water which can safely be relied upon from the mains now in use is from 26, 000,000 to 27,000,000 gallons per day. If this quan-000,000 to 27,000,000 gallons per day. If this quantity could be properly distributed the committee think it would be ample, but owing to the different altitudes the supply cannet be regulated so as to meet the necessities of the higher levels, except by the use of steam pumps to raise the water.

As between the propositions to bring more water from the Potomac and to use more pumps, the committee favor the former. They think it unwise to expend a large sum of money upon a merely temporary expedient. The use of steam pumps involves a continuous expense, while by getting a sufficient increase in the quantity of water from the Potomac by the proposed extension of the dam and reservoir all but the highest points in Washington can be permanently supplied. If the improvements proposed are completed, the commattee expect the following daity delivery of water:

The Pension Office Building. RECOMMENDATIONS MADE BY THE COMMITTEE AP. POINTED TO EXAMINE INTO ITS SAPETY. Messrs. Edward Clark, Adolf Cluss, and Thomas

Messrs. Edward Clark, Adolf Cluss, and Thomas
B. Entwisle, the commission appointed by resolution of Congress to examine and report upon the safety of the pension office (Shepherd building), have made a report to the Secretary of the Interior. The report is as follows:

Washington, March 7th, 1882
Hon. S. J. Kirkwood, Secretary of the Interior.
Sir: In compliance with your request to examine and report upon the sufficiency of the strength of the walls of the building at corner of 12th street and Pennsylvania avenue, occupied by the Pension office, to support the weight upon them, and also what, if anything, is necessary to be done to guard against fire and to afford easy exit for the employés in case of fire, we have made a survey of this building, and beg leave to report the results arrived at: We find the foundations and exterior walls of the building up to the sixth and uppernost floor to be of superior construction and of ample strength.

Appitional Accommodations for their views.

Mr. T. A. Lambert, representing the Interests of the Southern Maryland road, was before the Commissioners to-day to ask that they recommend the entrance of that road into the District.

Condensed Locals.

There are several cases of smallpox at the Preedman's Village, Va. A man who lives there stated to a STAR reporter to-day that the village has not been free of smallpox for the last three months.

Yesterday afternoon William Johnson was sowned by Louisa Thomas. Officer Britt afterwards killed the dog.

Dr. Hartlgan examined the body of the dead infant found by Officer Montgomery yesterday morning, and gave a certificate that death was caused by strangulation. The body was buried at the expense of the District.

Appitional Accommodations for the Interior.

Appitional Clark in the Interiors of the Southern Maryland road, was before the Commissioners to-day to ask that they lide interior.

There are several cases of smallpox at the Preedman's Village, va. A man who lives there stated to ask that they lide interior.

There are sever beg leave to report the results arrived at: We find the foundations and exterior walls of the building up to the sixth and uppernost floor to be of superior construction and of ample strength. There are no defects in them which impair their stability. The iron floor beams are too light for storage purposes, but are quite safe under their present load. They have no surplus of strength within the limits of absolute safety, hence the load should not be increased. The practice of overloading the upper stories of buildings not especially constructed for heavy warehouses, should be discontinued, and with this view we recommend that measures be taken to occupy the first floor (now used as a store) by the government, and believe that this would give the needed relief while adding to the safety of the public records.

There is but one stairway leading up from the streets (on 12th street) to the upper stories. Though wide, and substantially constructed of incombustible material, it is in the immediate vicinity of the elevator and should not be solely relied upon in case of panic or fire. A flight of stairs leads up from Pennsylvania avenue to the second story and we recommend that it be continued up from second to sixth story, in manner shown on the accompanying plan. The outside doors on Pennsylvania avenue and on 12th street at present inward, should be fitted with double-acting spring hinges."

This report will allay any apprehensions which may have been entertained by employes of that bureau, and will prove a serious disappointment to office seekers who may have expected the creation of a large number of vacancies by the collapse of the sixth story of the Pension office.

The Aqueduct Bridge. REPORT OF COL. ABERT BECOMMENDING THAT IT RE MAIN AS IT IS FOR A RAILROAD BRIDGE. In answer to a bill presented in the Senate re commending the purchase of the Aqueduct bridge by the government, Col. Abert has submitted a reby the government, Col. Abert has submitted a report to the chief of engineers recommending that the Aqueduct bridge remain as it is for the purpose of using it as a ratiroad bridge, and having the proposed bridge at the Three Sisters exclusively a free bridge for the people. He recommends that nothing should have the preference of this latter bridge. The report was this afternoon referred by General Wright to the Secretary of War.

Senator Hill's Conditionalist, who visited Senator Hill, of Georgia, recently, writes: Mr. Hill had all the glands on the left side of the throat removed, an operation which was painlessly performed, thanks to the blessed discovery of other. His hopes are that the disease has been eradicated from the tongue, and that it will not reappear again in the throat. But he is man of nerve and to disposed to conceal from misself of rirends the doubtful character of his complaint. He says: "I resign myself into the hands of my Creator, who will do with me what seems best to Him, and either raise me up to further usefulness or summon me away. I await with patience either event."
